Monday Missive

*The Yesees said yes to anything
That anyone suggested.
The Noees said no to everything
Unless it was proven and tested.
So the Yesees all died of much too much
And the Noees all died of fright,
But somehow I think the Thinkforyourselves
All came out all right.*

- Shel Silverstein

Our teachers and students are settling into their schedules. Everyone is readjusting to waking up early. The school year is in full swing. Soon we will all be busy with clubs, homework, and grading. But at the beginning of the year it is good to remember why we are here: to teach children to love the Lord and to think clearly. Both of these are a process – not accomplished in a year or even ten. All of the teachers are here to help each child along these paths as much as we can. Please pray for us that we would serve your families and your children well. Pray for the Lord’s guiding, strength, and wisdom as we care for our students this year.

We look forward to this year and what the Lord will bring.
